DESCRIPTION:

This route starts from Playa del Arenal and continues along the Cala Blanca towards Portitxol, until we arrive at the meseta de La Guardia. It is not an especially difficult route but it does have several ramps, especially in the first section, which will probably oblige us to ascend on foot. It has a leg-breaker profile although it poses no special difficulty, although you must be in good shape so that you will not become too tired. This housing estate zone has a dense pine wood hence travelling this route is very refreshing and pleasant.
